ANY remedy that benefits digestion strengthens the nerves. The nerve centers require nutrition. If the digestion is impaired, the nerve centers become anemic, and indigestion is the result.

Peruna is not a nerve nor a stimulant. It benefits the nerves by benefiting digestion.

Peruna frees the stomach of catarrhal congestions and normal digestion is the result.

In other words, Peruna goes to the bottom of the whole difficulty, when the disagreeable symptoms disappear. Mrs. J. C. Jamison, 61 Marchant street, Watsonville, Cal., writes:

"I was troubled with my stomach for six years. I tried many kinds of medicine, also was treated by three doctors. They said that I had nervous dyspepsia. I was put on a liquid diet for three months.

"I improved under the treatment, but as soon as I stopped taking the medicine, I got bad again.

"I took the medicine for two years, then I got sick again and gave up all hopes of getting cured.

"I saw a testimonial of a man whose case was similar to mine being cured by Peruna, so I thought I would give it a trial.

"I procured a bottle at once and commenced taking it. I have taken several bottles and am entirely cured.

"I have gained in strength and feel like a different person. I believe Peruna is all that is claimed for it."

Nervines, such as coal tar preparations, are doing a great deal of harm. Sleep medicines and headache powders are all alike—heart depressants, and should not be used. The nerves would be all right, if the digestion were good. Peruna corrects the digestion.

Death Rather Than Blindness.

Washington, May 13.—Believing that he was losing his eyesight and would soon be blind, Jonathan B. Donaldson, of Springfield, Mo., 60 year old, ended his life here by inhaling gas in a rooming house. Donaldson came to Washington Monday from Missouri. He collected $48 pension due him and applied for an increase of pension. He told pension bureau officials that he had lost the sight of one eye entirely, and that he was gradually losing the sight of the other.

Persons with whom he had talked said that he was discouraged over his falling eyesight and was very dependent. His body was taken to the morgue and his relatives in Springfield notified.

Wonderful Eczema Cure.

"Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Henrietta, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. He then employed other doctors but no benefit result. By chance we read about Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all blood medicines and b. by building health tonic. Guaranteed at Clay's drug store. 50c.

ON A ONE RAIL TRACK.

English Scientist Amazed at a Demonstration in London of a New Invention.

CARS ALWAYS BALANCED.

London, May 13.—The announcement of another triumph of science, of perhaps epoch making importance, was made before a brilliant assembly gathered under the auspices of the Royal Society. For more than two hours the leaders of the English scientific world listened to the exposition of a well known principle of mathematics for the first time applied and watched a marvelous demonstration which seemed to set the laws of gravitation at defiance.

At the close the men of science acclaimed its discoverer or inventor as worthy to rank high upon the roll of honor which bears the names of Newton, Watt and Stephenson. What they saw was this:

THE SIGHT THEY SAW.

The miniature railway car or locomotive, standing entirely above a single rail with apparently nothing to balance it, ran about the hall, turned sharp curves at high speed, crossed a single strand of wire cable in lieu of a bridge and climbed heavy inclines—all with perfect stability. It was sometimes loaded, sometimes empty. There was no attempt to balance the load, the vehicle itself did that instantly and automatically. Every attempt to unbalance it resulted in a paradox. If the load were piled all upon one side it seemed inevitable that the vehicle would sag, if indeed it did not topple over. But no, the overloaded side automatically rose in proportion to the burden and the empty side was depressed.

BRENNAN EXPLAINS THE DISCOVERY.

The creator of the new system of locomotion, Louis Brennan, C. B., the inventor of the famous Brennan torpedo, told his audience very briefly about his long search for an ideal method of traction. He said:

"The characteristic features of this system of transport is that each vehicle is capable of maintaining its balance upon an ordinary rail laid upon sleepers on the ground, whether it is standing still or moving in either direction at any rate of speed, notwithstanding that the center of gravity is several feet above the rail and that wind pressure, shifting of load, centrifugal action or any combination of these forces may tend to upset it.

HOW IT KEEPS ITS BALANCE.

"Automatic stability, mechanism of extreme simplicity, carried by the vehicle itself, endows it with this power. The mechanism consists essentially of two fly-wheels rotated directly by electric motors in opposite directions at a very high velocity and mounted so that their gyrostatic and stored up energy can be utilized. These flywheels are mounted on high class bearings and are placed in exhausted cases, so that both air and journal friction is reduced to a minimum, and consequently the power required to keep them in rapid motion is very small.

NO DANGER OF DERAILMENT.

"The wheels are placed in a single row beneath the center of the car and are carried on bogies or compound bogies, which are not only pivoted to provide for horizontal curves in the track, but for vertical ones also. By this means the cars can run upon curves even of less radius than the length of the vehicle itself, or crooked rails, or on rails laid over uneven ground without danger of derailment.

"The motive power may be either steam, petroleum, oil, gas or electricity as considered most suitable for local conditions. In the first instance, however, it had been decided to use petroleum and an electric generating set carried by the vehicle itself to supply the current to the motor's stability mechanism.

GREAT ECONOMY, TOO.

"Everything points to great economy resulting from making the cars wider in proportion to their length than on ordinary railways. Therefore it has been decided to make an experimental wagon twelve feet wide. For civil work in the colonies, the vehicles probably will be two or three times as wide, if not more. Brakes capable of being operated by pneumatic or manual power are provided for all wheels. The rail requires to be of the same weight as one of the rails of an ordinary line in order to carry the same load on the same number of wheels in each case. The ties require to be one-half the usual length.

COULDN'T BE BLOWN OFF.

"The bridges would be of the simplest possible construction, a single wire hawser stretched across a ravine or river being all that is necessary for temporary work. Strange to say, the lateral swaying of the hawser does not disturb the balance of the cars and the strongest wind will fall to blow them off. In other cases for bridge building, a single row of piles with the rail on top of them, or a single girder carrying the rail may be conveniently used.

The speed can be from twice to thrice that of ordinary railways, owing to the smoothness in running and the total absence of lateral oscillation."

For a cold or a cough take Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It contains no opiates and gently moves the bowels, thereby driving the cold entirely from the system. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by Clay's drug store.

PRISON FOR GARLAND MOORE

The Jury Fixed the Bois d'Arc Slayer's Punishment at Twenty-five Years.

Springfield, Mo., May 13.—Soon after 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon the jury in the case of Garland Moore, the young man, who stabbed his sweetheart, Clara West, to death in Bois d'Arc last December, because she rejected him, returned a verdict of murder in the second degree and assessed his punishment at twenty-five years in the penitentiary. Moore showed no emotion when the verdict was read, and the expression on his face did not change.

Immediately after Judge Lincoln excused the jury counsel for the defense filed a motion for a new trial on the ground that the court erred in giving instruction to the jury for murder in the second degree. The defense wanted the instructions for first degree murder or nothing.

Garland Moore killed Clara West December 4, 1906, with a butcher knife. He had gone to the home of a cousin of Miss West to ask her to renew her engagement to him which she had broken a few weeks before. She refused and he stabbed her to death. Moore was a rural route mail carrier.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. DRUG TRUST IS BROKEN FOREVER

Perpetual Injunction Entered at Indianapolis by 92 Defendants' Consent.

BLACKLISTS FORBIDDEN.

Indianapolis, May 13.—The so-called "Drug Trust" was perpetually enjoined from continuing its operations by the entering of a decree in the United States Circuit Court for the district of Indiana on the complaint of the United States Government, filed by Joseph B. Keating, United States District Attorney.

The defendants, 92 in number, who are the members, officers, directors, agents and attorneys of the National Association of Retail Druggists, the National Wholesale Druggists' Association, Tripartite proprietors, "Black List Manufacturers," "Direct Contract Proprietors" and Charles C. Bombaugh, are perpetually enjoined from combining to restrain trade in drugs, fix prices by agreement, black-list retailers who cut prices, or to refuse to sell to any retailer on equal terms. All publication of blacklists is forbidden and all contracts and agreements covered by the charges are declared void.

The direct contract serial number plan is prohibited as well as the obtaining of the adoption of schedules for the sale of drugs.

Charles A. Bombaugh was charged in the bill of complaint with being engaged in printing and circulating lists called blank lists, which contained the names of druggists throughout the country who sold proprietary articles and medicines at prices less than those which the alleged combination ordered. As charged, he would send a list each month to every retail and wholesale druggist in the United States who belonged to the association of those accused of cutting prices and as a result of these, "aggressive cutters" as they were called could not buy goods.

CONTRACT PROPRIETORS ENJOINED.

It was further charged that those accused of cutting prices on proprietary medicines were unable to purchase any kind of drugs from the members of the several associations. All such practices are perpetually enjoined.

The "direct contract proprietors" are enjoined from continuing the direct contract serial plan and from co-operating with any of the other defendants in carrying out such a plan. They are enjoined from requiring any dealer to enter into a contract restraining trade articles of their manufacture and from placing serial numbers on the retail packages for the purpose of keeping records and tracing sales and from requiring the vendee to keep records of and report sales by serial numbers.

All acts tending to restrict the free purchase of the articles of their manufacture are forbidden.
